Pipe relining is the "no dig" solution to blocked, cracked, leaking and root-infested drains and sewer pipes

In the past, the only way to fix drains was to dig them up and replace the damaged sections. The trouble is, this creates a huge mess and disruption to your home or business. Not to mention the cost of restoring the property and landscaping to its original condition.

Thankfully Pipe Relining Solutions now offers a simple, quick and reliable alternative: pipe relining. It's the "no dig" solution for repairing blocked and damaged drains and sewers without the need for disruptive excavations.

While it's relatively new to Australia, pipe relining has a 25-year proven track record in the US and Europe. The state of the art system we use has been used to reline many hundreds of kilometres of pipes across Europe.
